

REQUEST FOR PROPOSALS DESIGN AND ENGINEERING SERVICES – DIAMOND LAKE RESTORATION

The Poweshiek County Conservation Board (PCCB) is seeking a qualified consultant for planning, design, permitting, and engineering of elements associated with the restoration of Diamond Lake, located within at Diamond Lake Park (see figure 1) at; 4896 Stagecoach Road, Montezuma, IA 50171. The selected firm may provide engineering and planning services for additional phases of work, if desired. The selected firm will be working for Poweshiek County Conservation (PCCB) in consultation with project partners from the Iowa DNR Lake Restoration and Fisheries programs. The overall scope of work for this restoration project will likely include additional phases of work but this RFP is only for the watershed assessment portion of what may become a larger lake restoration project in the future.

Watershed Assessment

This RFP includes services required to evaluate the feasibility and usefulness (in terms of nutrient and sediment reduction and design life) of existing watershed structures and the potential for additional watershed best management practices (BMPS) on publically-owned property (see figure 2). This phase will also include an evaluation of forested area of the park (see figure 3) for timber stand improvement.

The chosen consultant will produce a technical memorandum outlining their findings at the conclusion of this phase of the project. In addition to providing a technical memorandum on the evaluation and analysis of the above aspects of the project, the consultant shall provide a conceptual engineering design documents and cost estimates for all restoration activities determined to be feasible and cost-effective. The anticipated cost for the work described in this RFP is $50-$75k. Poweshiek County Conservation, at their sole discretion, may choose to retain the selected firm for additional services at the completion of this phase of the project.

This entire document, including all attachments, shall be considered as a binding part of the contract and must meet or exceed the specifications set forth in this Request for Proposal (RFP).

The Conservation Board will use the “Selection Criteria” set forth in this request to select a firm. If PCCB determines that additional information is needed to make a final selection, the Board may require additional information and/or a meeting with the top ranked firms.

The consultant selected will enter into a contractual agreement for services with the PCCB. If for any reason Poweshiek County Conservation Board cannot reach an agreement with the top ranked firm, then the Board reserves the right to reject all proposals or enter negotiations with the second highest ranking firm, and so on down the ranking list.

This request invites consultants to submit a proposal for the items identified under the Scope of Work and a Statement of Qualifications with their proposals. The PCCB is requesting that the proposals also include a Cost Proposal for the Scope of Work and an hourly rate price sheet. The hourly rates provided by the consultant will be used as a basis for contracting any additional design and/or oversight work to be completed as a part of this project. Following completion of this work, PCCB and the consultant may choose to enter into contract for additional services to design watershed practices and provide some construction oversight.

OVERVIEW:

Poweshiek County Conservation is seeking proposals for evaluating and providing limited engineering design of elements associated with the restoration of Diamond Lake at Diamond Lake County Park. This RFP does not obligate the PCCB to award a contract to any firm, nor to pay any cost incurred in the preparation of the proposals submitted in response to this request. The PCCB reserves the right to accept or reject any or all proposals received.

The objective of the project is to identify and design lake restoration elements that will serve to reduce the high phosphorus concentrations and sediment loads that lead to frequent algae blooms observed at Diamond Lake, ultimately improving the water quality and recreational opportunities at the park.

BACKGROUND:

Diamond Lake is a 98-acre lake in a 2,627-acre watershed, with a good portion of the watershed located within the 660-acre Diamond Lake County Park. The lake was constructed in the 1950s as a city reservoir for the City of Montezuma, and remains the city's drinking water source. The park was developed in 1958, when the City of Montezuma signed an agreement with the PCCB to acquire and develop the land around the lake as a County Park. Today, the park provides numerous recreational opportunities to the public, including camping, fishing, wildlife watching, and trail use. PCCB continues to make improvements to the park, including three shower houses and restroom facilities, a fish cleaning station, and a playground.

Diamond Lake's 2,627-acre watershed is a mix of corn and soybean, park grassland, and forest (Figure 4). While the watershed has several BMPs to reduce nutrient and sediment delivery to the park, the lake still experiences some sedimentation and algae blooms that affect the overall water quality and reduce recreational opportunities. The local community is currently working with a watershed coordinator to make additional improvements in the watershed on privately owned property. The goal of this project is to identify and implement additional watershed improvement practices within the park boundary.

Diamond Lake is currently listed on Iowa's Impaired Waters List due to exotic fish species that contribute to poor water quality. This lake does not have a (Class A1) primary contact designation, so it is not currently listed as impaired for poor water quality caused by algae blooms, but data collected on the lake suggest that high nutrient and sediment concentrations contribute to ongoing issues with algae blooms.

In 2015, DNR worked with Poweshiek County Conservation to repair and modify the existing spillway at the lake outlet. The updated spillway now features a 10-foot drop box, which helps eliminate rough fish migration into the lake from Moon Creek downstream. Mitigating carp populations within the lake is an important step for improving overall water quality.

SCOPE OF SERVICES:

SCOPE OF WORK – Evaluation of needs and cost estimates

The consultant will be working with staff of Poweshiek County Conservation, in consultation with the Iowa DNR, in planning and decision-making related to size and scope of each project element. The consultant selected for this project will enter into a contractual agreement with the PCCB and provide the following services.

1. Site assessment and analysis through 35% design including construction cost estimates for any identified watershed projects deemed necessary to improve the water quality of Diamond Lake effectively, with the goal of reducing nutrient and sediment loads to the lake. Cost estimates should include preliminary estimates for construction services and construction inspection services, itemized to each component of the watershed projects identified. These budget estimates will be used by the project partners to develop planning budgets for future phases of the project.

2. Evaluate the extent and locations for timber stand improvement as identified woodland in figure 3 and a plan for improvements and cost estimate for this work (if deemed necessary).
3. Evaluate the capacity of the existing watershed practices within the park property (Figure 2) and a cost/benefit analysis for upgrading the existing structures to increase storage capacity/design life and improve water quality in Diamond Lake.
4. Evaluate and prioritize other potential practices within the park to address active gully erosion. If proposing BMPS near the lakeshore that would require the lake level to be drawn down or would need extensive stream and/or wetland mitigation, these factors should be considered when determining the cost/benefit of the proposed structure(s).
5. Evaluate the 9-acre proposed acquisition (Jordan Proposed area; Figure 5) with PCCB and the potential seller's approval for BMP opportunities, providing a cost/benefit analysis for any proposed structures and a 35% design and cost estimate.
6. Estimate tons of sediment and pounds of phosphorus that would be reduced from watershed load to the lake for each of the proposed watershed BMPs and upgraded structures within the park.
7. Prepare a technical memorandum summarizing the findings from this phase of work, as well as cost estimate and preliminary design plans (35%) for proposed BMPs.

COST PROPOSAL

Cost proposal information submitted for this proposal shall include;

1. Fixed Fee for all elements of the project (work completed as a part of this RFP).
2. Consultant Fees (hourly rates) for any negotiated services for Planning, Engineering, Design, Permitting, Construction Oversight, Construction Inspection and Deliverables for any future phases of the project.

Diamond Lake Restoration Project Background

This Request for Proposal represents a cooperative effort between multiple agencies to investigate and address the environmental issues effecting Diamond Lake.

Constructed in the 1950s, Diamond Lake is a 98.7-acre lake with a 2,672 acre watershed which is comprised of a mix of public and privately owned lands. The lake is located in Diamond Lake County Park in Poweshiek County and is managed by Poweshiek County Conservation. With a 27.2: 1 watershed to lake area ratio, the lake is an excellent candidate for restoration. The watershed has a mix of forested land, crop land, and grassland. Water quality is considered average for the State of Iowa, but the lake suffers periodically from algae blooms that lead to poor water clarity. The maximum depth of Diamond Lake is about 20' with the mean depth being 7.2' although the depths in the norther portion of the lake are fairly shallow and there has been some sediment deposition in the arms of the lake since it was constructed.

Both landowners within the watershed and the park staff have worked to reduce sediment and nutrient inputs to the lake by installing a variety of best management practices on the landscape, but additional work is needed to better manage inputs to the lake. This project represents the first step in a comprehensive restoration project that is proposed for the lake and park. Additionally, a watershed coordinator is working with landowner and operators within the watershed to install additional BMPs on privately owned land. Diamond Lake is a significant public resource and it supports more than 33,000 visitor trips each year for recreational activities including boating and fishing. In addition, Diamond Lake serves the City of Montezuma as its drinking water source.
